Waveland board endorses keeping Gulf Park open

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Waveland Board of Aldermen has gone on record protesting the proposed closing of the University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Park campus.

At the request of Mayor John Longo Jr., the board approved a proclamation Wednesday stating that the facility provides an opportunity for higher education not otherwise available on the Gulf Coast and should remain open.

Copies of the proclamation will be forwarded to State Senator Gene Taylor, State Representative Walter James Phillips and Gulf Park Dean Joseph Holloway.

The Mississippi Legislature is currently considering several proposals that would cut the number of college facilities in the state, including the possibility that all branch campuses of state-supported universities be closed.

Longo said closing Gulf Park's two satellite programs at Jackson County and Keesler Air Force Base and discontinuing special courses taught at NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories would be preferable to closing the Gulf Park campus.

He pointed out that numerous Coast residents working or living in Hancock County use the campus and because of distance involved as well as family and work commitments most would be unable to transfer to the USM-Hattiesburg campus if Gulf Park closes.

In addition, Longo appointed Gulf Park student Dena Bisnette to serve as head of the Waveland Committee to Save Gulf Park Campus.

Longo said Bisnette will coordinate the activities of the committee with those of a recently organized student task force, Students for Higher Education on the Gulf Coast.

The task force has initiated a petition drive and a letter-writing campaign targeted at convincing the legislature that Gulf Park should not be included among college facilities proposed for closing.

A lobbying trip to Jackson is also being organized, Gulf Park Dean Joseph Holloway said Thursday.

Holloway said he feels Hancock County, Harrison County and Jackson County will be adversely affected if the campus closes.

He said statistics do not actually reflect how much Hancock County will be affected, since students are classified according to county of residence.

Only five percent of all Gulf Park students currently enrolled live in Hancock County, but many from other counties work for Hancock County industries like Borg-Warner Chemical and the various government agencies and civilian firms located at NSTL.

In addition, Hancock County has a smaller population than the other two Coastal counties.

"It is important for these agencies

Hospital administrator urges zoning changes for new location

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission will rule Tuesday on a zoning request which would allow a doctor's office in a residential neighborhood adjacent to the new hospital site.

Following the request by Dr. James Crittendon in November, the commission began a study of zoning in the entire area around the hospital to determine if there is a need for a special zoning area for health-related activities.

The commission met with the city council last week to discuss the matter but no decision was reached.

At the joint meeting, area residents voiced their opposition while Hospital Administrator Phillip Wolfe said the hospital board is in favor of the zoning change.

"What we want is what is best for Bay St. Louis and we think the continued success of the hospital and the medical community will help insure the city's growth," Wolfe added Friday.

"We need to be able to compete with other area hospitals and to do this we feel that the rezoning of the property around the hospital is critical," Wolfe added.

"A buffer zone along Drinkwater and Green Meadow roads would accomplish two things, first to protect residential areas from the hospital and also to make the hospital much more attractive to a physician considering relocating in Bay St. Louis," Wolfe said.

Without that zoning, the hospital loses one segment of its competitiveness.

"In my experience the residential areas around the hospital prefer to have a buffer zone so the sounds of hospital activities and lights at night don't interfere with residential living," he said.

When considering zoning change, it is essential to consider what the area will be like in 10 to 20 years and the significant medical growth there will be in the next few years, Wolfe said.

"Physicians like to locate near a hospital both for the convenience of their patients and also so they can respond quickly to emergencies at the hospital," he said.

Slot machines seized in Bay gambling raid

BY DENA BISNETTE
Authorities seized 24 slot machines and other gambling paraphernalia in two Friday afternoon raids in Bay St. Louis.

Bay Police Detective David Murtagh said Saturday that police were still counting money and tokens seized in the raids on Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3253 on Third Street and Disabled American Veterans Post 50 on Union Street.

"The raids were the result of a three-month undercover investigation at both places and were not directed against the organizations, but focused strictly on the gambling. We want to make this clear," Murtagh stated.

Five people were arrested on misdemeanor gambling charges, including Jimmy Mitchell, 103 Austin Lane, Bay St. Louis; Delbert A. Cuevas, Route One, Picayune; Clinton E. Matthews, Pass Christian; James A. Magnusen Jr. of Long Beach; and Anthony G. Pitolo Jr., 342 Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Also involved in the investigation and arrests were officers of the Mississippi Highway Patrol and the Enforcement Division of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

RUSHING TO HOSPITAL—Mobile Medic technicians rush Elizabeth Black on a stretcher to an ambulance after being removed by use of the 'Jaws of Life' from the vehicle she was driving after it was struck head-on by another vehicle which jumped the median on US-90 in Henderson Point, according to Mississippi State Trooper Curtis Newman, Michael Martin of Pass Christian, who also sustained injuries was the driver of the other vehicle and was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road and driving on a suspended license because of driving under the influence, Newman said. The state trooper reported Black's injuries included fractures to both arms and legs. Two passengers in Black's vehicle were also injured in the crash. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Four injured in crash Thursday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Three Hancock County teenagers and one Pass Christian man were injured Thursday in an accident at Bayview Drive in Pass Christian.

Elizabeth Black, Tammy Hotard and April Phelps were all hospitalized following a collision with a car driven by Michael Martin of Pass Christian.

Martin, driving a 1973 convertible Triumph in the eastbound lane on US-90, crossed the median before crashing into the van driven by Black, said State Trooper Curtis Newman.

Rescuers used the jaws of life to remove Black, Hotard and Phelps. Both Black and Phelps were transported by Mobil Medic to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport.

A hospital spokesman said Friday Black was in good condition following surgery to stop internal bleeding. Black also suffered fractures of both legs and both arms.

Phelps, who suffered a broken leg, was discharged Friday.

Protest vigil at clinic peaceful; opposition to abortion to continue

BY DENA BISNETTE
 A protest in front of New Woman Medical Center Thursday apparently resulted in no disturbances.

According to Rev. Nathan Barber, one of the organizers of a candlelight prayer vigil on the right-of-way between the clinic parking lot and US-90, the event was staged to show clinic operators that opposition against the abortions performed there is continuing.

"It was partially in observance of the Wednesday anniversary of the Supreme Court's 1973 decision in Roe vs. Wade, the abortion case," Barber said.

"What we were trying to say is that as a community we are still just as opposed a year and a half later," he added, referring to the amount of time the clinic has operated in Bay St. Louis.

He said picketing, memorial services for aborted babies and special events like the candlelight vigil will continue to be staged in front of the clinic, particularly on Thursdays.

He added that the participants in the vigil received no reaction from the employees of the clinic, which was open for business during the event, or from patients entering or leaving the building.

"The patients took it very well," said Rebecca Walker, the clinic administrator. "Most who come here expect picketers anyway."

She said that there were no incidents of harassment of patients reported, although the event did appear to impede the traffic on the highway to a small degree.

She said that inside the clinic "it was business as usual."

Walker also said the number of protest activities and picketers in front of the clinic had decreased over the past three months, but she called Bay Police Department when she heard about the vigil because she had been told it would include "about 100 people."

Barber said about 100 did participate, but were split into three groups over a period of about two and a half hours. The largest group numbered about 40.

He added that organizers of the event had also requested that police officers be available and said at least two were present during the event.

Pearlington youth charged with rape

BY DENA BISNETTE

A 17-year-old Pearlinton youth has been arrested and turned over to St. Tammany Parish, La., authorities in connection with the rape of a Slidell woman.

According to Alvin Ladner of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the juvenile has been sent to St. Tammany Parish and is being charged there with one count of auto theft, two counts of aggravated rape, one count of aggravated crime against nature, one count of aggravated battery and two counts of armed robbery.

He also was charged by Hancock County authorities with one count of resisting arrest.

Ladner said the charges were filed in connection with the alleged rape at knifepoint of a 50-year-old Slidell woman in Slidell at about 1 p.m. Tuesday.

The alleged rapist took the woman's car, which was recovered in Pearlinton when Ladner and Deputies Glen Strong and Ronnie Cuevas made the arrest at about 10 p.m.

Ladner said the arrested youth is considered an adult rather than a juvenile in Louisiana but would have been treated as an adult in either state because of the nature of the charges.

Jury awards damages

A Bay St. Louis woman has been awarded $15,000 for injuries suffered in a fall in front of city hall seven years ago in a reversal of a 1982 verdict.

A jury in Hancock County Circuit Court ruled Wednesday that Henrietta Wilson Bell, who broke her left leg in the incident, should receive $15,000 of the $150,000 she had requested.

The trial was the result of a ruling by the Mississippi Supreme Court, which last April reversed a January 1982 verdict for the city and ordered a new trial.

Bell's injury allegedly occurred on Dec. 1, 1978, when she went to city hall to pay a utility bill, then slipped and fell on the sidewalk as she returned to her car.

She alleged that she slipped on wet grass and gardening debris that had been left on the sidewalk.

Bell's suit contended that her injury still prevents her from working or doing household tasks.

The original decision was overturned after her attorney, Wynn Clark, argued before the Mississippi Supreme Court that residents of Bay St. Louis should not have been allowed to serve as jurors because city residents were paying an extra half-cent sales tax levied to pay off a judgement on an earlier negligence suit, leaving those jurors biased against awarding damages.

Another move is being made for the extension of Highway 603 to four lanes.

Highway 603 has been a serious problem in Hancock County for many years, and it appears to us that it has had a tremendous traffic increase in recent years.

Local residents complain about the traffic situation on Highway 603 more than the rest of the roads in the entire county.

We know that the Mississippi Highway Department has made numerous surveys on the traffic flow on Highway 603, and they always come back and say there is not enough traffic to warrant four lanes.

To us it appears the surveys are not taken at the proper times or something, because the highway seems to be very crowded most of the times we travel it.

Larry Breland, a local resident, as well as others, are pushing for four lanes on Highway 603, and we wish them luck.

The need now is for all local elected officials as well as all of our citizens to express their wishes for the highway to be updated.

We do not have to mention the numerous accidents which have occurred on the highway through Hancock County in recent years.

With four lanes on Highway 603, it is possible the number of accidents could be reduced.

The organization of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors 'Clean Our Beach Day' set for Saturday, February 22, is in high gear.

In order for the event to be successful, it will take the involvement of many of our organizations and residents.

The Hancock County Beach Front Technical Advisory Council, Chamber of Commerce, Extension Service, cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, civic organizations and garden clubs all have committed to participation in the supervisors' sponsored project.

We will be giving more information on the event as the arrangements for the clean-up are finalized.

It is good to see the steel going up for the Hancock County Medical Center on US-90 and Drinkwater Road.

The activity at the site has really increased in recent weeks and this is a good sign.

We know many folks are glad the new hospital is becoming a reality.

Activity has really increased by our office with the construction of the new Hancock County Jail underway.

Test pilings have been driven, and tests have been made and now more pilings have been arriving.

We expect to hear some noises this week as we have been told some 300 pilings will be used for the new jail.

The People's Business

TOO EARLY TO CELEBRATE

The Legislature has moved quickly and enthusiastically in support of governor succession. And public opinion polls indicate voters are overwhelmingly supportive of the principle that a governor should be permitted to immediately succeed himself in office.

But the issue hasn't been resolved and proponents of governor succession need to keep this in mind.

At this point the Legislature has voted to permit a vote on the question of governor succession. The issue will be on the general election ballot in Mississippi in November of this year.

The work isn't over. Those who favor succession should use the time between February and November to enlist other support, to explain why governor succession is important to all corners of the state.

We can't afford to rest now with victory in sight. There is still work to be done. Let's celebrate in November, after the general election.

Common Cause seeking passage of tax loophole disclosure law

"If your income is over $40,000 a year and you still pay taxes, you're either generous, uninformed, or you are just plain crazy."

So goes an ad for a tax seminar guaranteed to make you "tax smart and wealthy."

Such titillating promises might make the average citizen mad. That's your hard-earned money they're snatching.

The taxes not paid and the income sheltered, mostly by large corporations and wealthy individuals, are made up by the rest of us.

Common Cause/Mississippi advocates a "loophole disclosure law," which would require a thorough review annually of all tax exemptions, credits, deductions, allowances, and exclusions.

The Mississippi Research and Development Center would prepare and publish this "tax expenditure report," which would detail the approximate costs in lost revenue because of all state tax expenditure provisions.

Simply stated, tax expenditures are tax dollars the government loses by not collecting them.

With declining state revenues and broad opposition to any tax increase this year, the report would provide a "grocery list" to help legislators shop for millions to pay for essential state services, said Common Cause Field Director Roberta Madden.

Legislation to require the annual review and report has been introduced by Rep. Wesley McIngvale of Batesville, who estimated that exemptions and other tax preferences have cost the state about $700 million over the past five years.

McIngvale's bill has been referred to a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee. Sen. Steve Hale of Moss Point has introduced a similar bill in the Senate.

The taxpaying public has a high stake in this "loophole disclosure" legislation, according to Common Cause.

Madden urged citizens to contact their legislators to urge them to support the tax expenditure bills.

"You may be generous, but you are certainly not crazy enough to pay someone else's taxes," Madden said.

At least 23 states have conducted tax expenditure studies since the federal government initiated the idea in 1968.

Among the 23 states are those that have developed estimates of foregone revenue for purposes of answering questions posed by legislators and the press (such as Connecticut and Alabama), as well as 13 states which legislatively require a periodic report including an actual tax expenditure budget with supporting analysis (such as Massachusetts, Louisiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin).

For those states, attempting to estimate foregone revenue, the percentage of foregone revenue to actual revenue was 30 percent or higher.

Medical Center

Q. My husband has had blood in his semen recently but he refuses to see a doctor to have it checked out. I'm terribly afraid he might have something bad like cancer. He always reads your column and I feel sure he'll see the doctor if you advise him to.

A. You didn't mention your husband's age in your letter but it's a very important factor in this case. The condition you describe is called "hematospermia" and we've found that in men under 30 it seldom has any particular significance, lasting a few weeks and almost never recurring.

In men over forty, however, there is a higher incidence of severe medical problems in association with hematospermia, particularly if there are other symptoms such as pain, difficult urination or blood in the urine.

In those cases, the possibility of malignancy would have to be considered.

I always opt for a cautious conservative approach so my advice to your husband would be if you're under 30 and having no other problems, wait a few weeks and the blood will probably go away on its own.

If you're over 30, if you have any other symptoms or if the bleeding persists longer than a month, you should be evaluated by a urologist.

Now that I've committed myself on this issue, I'll probably get letters from urologists who disagree with my approach. If this happens, I'll pass that information along in the next column.

Q. My husband has leg cramps at night. His doctor gave him Quinine but he can't take it because it makes him dizzy and his head roars. What causes leg cramps and is there any other medicine he can take for them?

A. Your husband's experience with Quinine happens so frequently it's been given a name: "cinchonism" which stems from the chemical group to which Quinine belongs, the "cinchona alkaloids". Usually, cinchonism can be avoided by reducing the dose but there are several other good medicines which can be used.

It is thought that leg cramps are caused by reduced blood flow to the legs, either from atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) or spasm of the blood vessels.

Q. My mother has been taking Premarin to prevent bone thinning for over a year now. Everything was going fine until her last visit to her doctor when he added a second medicine called Provera for her to take for one week a month.

The doctor said this was to prevent female cancer and we think that is great but the problem is the fact that my mother has begun to have periods again. She hasn't had any periods in almost 20 years and hates the idea of starting them again.

In fact, she's thinking of dropping both medications. I told her I'd write to you about this problem.

A. Your mother isn't the first lady I've known of who decided prevention of osteoporosis wasn't worth it if you had to have periods for the rest of your life.

The doctor was treating your mother on the basis of the latest research which shows a much lower incidence of cancer of the uterus when progesterone (Provera) is added to estrogen therapy (Premarin).

This is a very complex issue and, in the final analysis, it must be a personal decision. I can tell you that the risk of bone fractures, particularly of the hip, is very high in elderly ladies and the potential benefit in preventing these fractures is great enough to justify taking some small risks in other areas.

Many doctors feel that the slightly increased incidence of female cancer when Premarin is given alone is still well worth the risk in terms of overall health.

Of course, people are individuals, not statistics, and if your mother got cancer after taking Premarin, it wouldn't make her feel a bit better to tell her the risks had been small.

The safest route is to take the Provera along with the Premarin and put up with the periods.

If periods are intolerable, she is statistically probably safer taking the Premarin alone, than not taking it at all. But this must be an informed decision based on a long talk with her doctor.

Fenton Volunteer Firefighters commended

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Sir,

We would like to commend the Fenton Volunteer Fire Department for their hard work and skill.

The professionalism they displayed in combating a raging woods fire more than likely saved our homes.

This fire occurred on Jan. 19 and we are very grateful for the assistance in ensuring our homes were kept safe.

Five homes were in danger as a result of this fire, but the skill and dedication displayed by the Fenton Volunteer Fire Department was the factor which ensured our safety. They did a tremendous job in handling this dangerous situation.

Very respectfully,

To The Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor,

May I ask...Who is responsible?

It might deter accidents on Hwy. 603, especially at night, to have white lines so that one could judge the width of the highway.

Most drivers don't realize they are driving with their bright lights on, do not care, or can't see the highway without them. When oncoming autos don't dim their lights, one is further blinded without guidelines to follow.

Without being able to judge where the edge of the road is, your life is in jeopardy when there is oncoming traffic. I know...I was nearly sideswiped by an oncoming car on 603.

I don't believe the speed limit is posted, and if it is, why isn't it enforced?

Hwy. 603 is murder!

Pretty please, help! Help save someone's life.

Thanking you in advance,
Gerry Lang

RECOMMENDATIONS OUTLINED FOR LEGISLATURE

Last week I outlined my recommendations to the 1988 Legislature, and I would like to use this column to tell you about the major suggestions I made.

The overriding theme of the recommendations was dictated by the austere budget crunch that state government is presently experiencing. In the past few months we have cut more than $72 million out of the state budget, due to lower-than-projected tax collections.

In this context, I made the following recommendations:

- No new tax increases. In fact, I said I would veto any tax increase if the Legislature approved one.
- Transferring special funds to the general fund. In this manner, during tough budget times like the present, the entire state budget is available for reduction, not merely the 43 percent of services we have been forced to cut.
- Establishing a permanent disaster assistance fund.
- Allow the voters to vote on a Constitutional amendment allowing gubernatorial succession at the 1988 Congressional elections.
- Establish a Department of Transportation to include highways, airways, ports and waterways, rail, and public transit, with a commusion appointed by the Governor.

- Break the stalemate between the State Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning and the Legislature on the matter of university consolidation.

- Continue funding the Education Reform Act according to the timetable established by the 1982 Act.

- Adopt procedures to better detect and reduce incidents of child abuse and abuse of vulnerable adults.

- Reorganize health care services to eliminate duplication of functions and waste of money.

- Continue fighting the disposal of nuclear waste in Mississippi.

- Establish a funding mechanism for state and local government to fund special jobs projects for economic development.

- Enact intrastate banking this year and interstate banking in two years.

- Establish a white collar crime division in the Attorney General's Office.

- Increase drug enforcement personnel in Bureau of Narcotics.

- Enact election law reforms.
- Recommend study of agriculture and forestry programs wherein we appropriate $90.4 million of general and special funds, to ensure that our hard-pressed farmers are actually receiving benefits commensurate with those dollars.

CHECKING ACCIDENT VEHICLES—Mississippi State Trooper Curtis Newman checks the threads on tires of a Volkswagen van involved in an accident with a Triumph, to his left, on Thursday near the Pass Christian overpass in Henderson Point. Newman said the Triumph, driven by Michael Martin, 29, of Pass Christian, was traveling in the eastbound lane of US-90, crossed the median and collided head-on with the Volkswagen van in the westbound lane driven by Elizabeth Black, of Waveland. Two passengers in the van were injured in addition to the drivers. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock).

TRAPPED IN VEHICLE—Emergency personnel struggle to free the driver of a Volkswagen van trapped after an accident with a Triumph on Thursday on US-90 in Henderson Point. The motor for the Jaws of Life is at lower right, and a chain is connected to the wrecked vehicle from a van, upper right, used in trying to free the vehicle's trapped driver. She was identified as Elizabeth Black of Waveland by Mississippi State Trooper Curtis Newman. A total of four persons sustained injuries in the two-vehicle accident. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

to have access to higher education in terms of upward mobility for their employees," the dean said.

"We think closing would have a big impact not only on the students we have now, but USM without a Coast location would not be effective in assisting Hancock and the other coastal counties in bringing in more jobs by selling the possibility of higher education and research."

Holloway added that the average Gulf Park student is 30 and has a full-time job and a family.

He said a survey of students showed that only 170 of Gulf Park's enrollment of about 1,200 students had indicated on a survey that they would be able to travel to Hattiesburg.

The survey also indicated that 39 percent of that 1,200 would not be attending school at all if Gulf Park did not exist.

In other business Wednesday, the board of aldermen approved entering a contract with Ray Eaton and Associates for engineering services.

According to Board Attorney Lucien Gex, Eaton will be on retainer for the city as well as under contract for specific projects, such as a street paving program currently underway.

In addition, the board:
—Opened bids for city supplies and took them under advisement;
—Approved a request from Fire Chief Donald McIntyre for advertisement for bids to update one of the city's pumper trucks;
—Took bids for maintenance of a city water tower under advisement; and —Opened bids for depositories for city funds.

Directors of The Southern Company have approved sale of five million additional shares of common stock.

The winning bid for the shares was submitted by Salomon Brothers, Inc. and Bear, Stearns & Co. Inc. The firms will offer the new stock to the public at $22.375 per share.

The Southern Company will receive $110,835,000 from the offering. The funds will be used to help finance the construction of electric service facilities across the Southeast.

The Southern Company is the parent firm of four electric utilities: Alabama Power, Georgia Power, Gulf Power, and Mississippi Power.

The companies of the Southern electric system currently are building 11 generating units at five sites. When completed, these units will add some five million kilowatts of generating capacity to the system.

Mason to run for school board

John Mason of Waveland has qualified as a candidate for the Bay St. Louis School Board.

Mason said he plans to support consolidation, kindergarten and strengthening the educational system in his campaign.

"Consolidation is a must and as a school board member I will work toward that goal. We've got to get the most out of our tax dollars being spent on education and we've got to get the best education per dollar spent," Mason said.

"For the continued progress and economic development of the community, we must strengthen the educational system. We have a lot of people who love this community, but won't move here when they see this school system," he added.

"There are many factions in this community because of our school districts. There are too many factions. I believe these people need to be brought back together and put their trust in the system again."

The candidate said he also supports implementation of kindergarten and stated that he currently has a child enrolled in a private school's kindergarten because the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District is still in the process of establishing its first kindergarten program.

Mason is the proprietor of Mason's Exxon on the corner of Nicholson Avenue and US-90.

He is a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and immediate past president of the chamber, member of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Waveland Civic Association, United Way Board of Directors and the vestry of Christ Episcopal Church.

JOHN MASON

He is an alumni of Father Flanagan's Boys Town in Nebraska and is a graduate of Kansas City Community College, Kansas City, Kan., and University of Washington, where he obtained a degree in economics.

He is married to Debra Mason, a graduate of the Bay St. Louis School District, and they have two daughters, Sara Mason, age 7, and Robin Mason, age 5.

The school board election will be March 1.

CPAs to hear IRS agent on loss claims

Jerry Griffith, Internal Revenue agent, Gulfport, will be the featured speaker at a Wednesday meeting of the Mississippi Association of Public Accountants.

Gulf Coast Chapter President Suzette Montgomery said the meeting will be held in the upstairs dining room of Morrison's Cafeteria at Edgewater Mall at noon.

Griffith will discuss the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code regarding the filing of casualty loss claims, a subject of great interest to all taxpayers and businesses as a result of the substantial losses from hurricanes in 1985.

Public accountants participating in the meeting may qualify for one hour credit toward their continuing professional educational requirements.

Objectives of the Mississippi Association of Public Accountants include improvement of the profession of public accountancy and the exchange of ideas and experiences to enable members to better serve the needs of their clients.

All members of the Gulf Coast Chapter and other interested individuals are urged to attend. Reservations may be made by calling 864-3333.

Patience is something you admire greatly in the driver behind you but not in the one ahead of you.

Nereids names Mayor Longo parade marshal

When the Krewe of Nereids rolls onto the highway for its 20th trip through Waveland, it will be led by Parade Marshal John Longo, mayor of the city.

Longo will be honored by Nereids with the title Parade Marshal in appreciation for support and service given to the club over the past 20 years.

It was with the aid and support of Longo, the board of aldermen, and Waveland police that Nereids was able to grow and develop into one of the most respected and well-known carnival clubs on the Gulf Coast, a krewe spokesman said.

PARADE MARSHAL JOHN LONGO

Longo has served the City of Waveland since 1962 and has aided and supported Nereids since its founding in 1966.

"It will be Mayor Longo's presence that will help make Nereids' 20th anniversary parade very special," the spokesman added.

Longo and his wife Jean are the parents of six children. A graduate of Loyola University, he is entering his seventh term as mayor.

NSTL plans teacher in space activities

When NASA's Teacher in Space, Christa McAuliffe, holds classes aboard the orbiting Space Shuttle Challenger next week, she will have the attention of thousands of earth-bound students in Mississippi, Louisiana and Mobile, Ala.

In preparation for McAuliffe's "ultimate field trip," the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County has provided 10,000 special Teacher's Guides to schools in the three-state area. The classroom material will correspond with McAuliffe's live lessons on day 6 of the mission.

At NSTL's Visitors Center auditorium, some 250 students will be on hand to watch McAuliffe's lessons live via satellite from space. Scheduled to take part in activities at NSTL are students from Pearlman's Charles B. Murphy Elementary School and members of the Slidell (La.) Junior High School's science club. Visitors Center personnel will also present special programs relating to space travel for the students. NSTL will videotape McAuliffe's lessons to incorporate into the center's educational presentations for students and teachers.

At schools throughout the nation, the live lessons will be available through satellite dish reception and through the Public Broadcasting Service.

McAuliffe will teach two lessons while circling the earth at more than 17,500 miles an hour. The first lesson, scheduled for approximately 10:40 a.m. CST, will be entitled "The Ultimate Field Trip" and will allow students to compare daily life on the shuttle with that on earth. Planned for approximately 12:40 p.m. CST, the second lesson, "Where We've Been, Where We're Going, Why?" will help the audience understand why people use and explore space.

Liftoff of Challenger's 51-L mission is now set for Jan. 25 at 2:45 p.m. CST from the Kennedy Space Center in Florida. The six-day mission will conclude with a landing at KSC on Jan. 31.

New shopping center likely for Pass Hwy 90

Pass Christian may soon have a shopping center at the intersection of US-90 and the west side of Henderson Avenue on what before Hurricane Camille was the Richelieu Apartments.

Mayor Jake Erwin said an option was taken on the land.

Besides the old Richelieu property, Erwin said he was aware that the prospective builders had contacted owners of adjacent land for a large tract for the shopping center and may also have options on this additional land.

"Although the developers would not tell me what grocery chain would locate here, they said I'd be pleased," commented Erwin.

Legislative Report through Jan. 16

By Rosa Lee Jones

A call for closing of two state universities dominated the second week of what may turn out to be a monumental legislative session.

Angry alumni descended on the Capitol only a day after the College Board said the state's budget crisis forced them to recommend the closing of Mississippi Valley State University and Mississippi University for Women.

They and supporters of the Mississippi State Veterinary School in Starkville and the Ole Miss Dental School in Jackson, (also recommended for closure), pledged to fight long and hard for their schools.

Off-campus degree-granting centers in Jackson, Meridian, Tupelo, Vicksburg, Natchez and Long Beach would also be shut down under the College Board plan. The allocations for state funds for athletics at Mississippi State, Ole Miss and the University of Southern Mississippi would be capped at $300,000 a piece, with the other state schools each being allotted $500,000.

The college board's $188 million current budget has already been reduced by $14 million the last two months. Board officials say they can save around $29 million in 1987 if the legislature approves their recommendations.

State Sen. Glen Deweese of Meridian, Senate president pro tem, predicted the college battle would be the most controversial in the legislature since prohibition. Several lawmakers have publicly expressed doubt that the entire package of recommendations will be passed intact.

In his State of the State message on Tuesday, Jan. 14, the day before the College Board report, Allain had said he supported university consolidation. The governor also said he would veto any tax increase and would turn down any highway appropriation bill that doesn't share in the massive cuts being made in other areas of state government.

Gubernatorial succession, which flew through the House in the legislature's first week, passed out of the Senate Constitution Committee on a 6-1 vote, with the Senate expected to give its approval this week.

A senate-passed bill to abolish the state's Blue Laws moved without a hitch through the House Municipalities Committee. County Affairs Committee Chairman David Halbrook, however, has said he will hold a hearing this week on lifting the state's ban on Sunday sales.

In other action, the House Transportation Committee OK'd a bill that would impose a $25 fine on any driver caught not wearing a seat belt on state highways.

SENATE COMMITTEES

Senate Committee assignments changed this year with the election of Buddy Bond of Carthage. Bond filled the vacancy created when former Senator Tommy Brooks was convicted of extortion for taking a bribe in exchange for his support for legalizing parimutuel betting. Committee assignments for senators for the 1986 Session are as follows:

District No. 46, Gene Taylor: Executive Contingent Fund, chairman; Conservation, Corrections, Elections, Municipalities, Ports and Industries and Public Property.

District No. 47, Martin T. Smith: Judiciary, chairman; Business and Financial Institutions, Congressional Redistricting, Constitution, Elections, Finance, Insurance, Labor, and Legislative Reapportionment.

NSTL plans tour of four Mississippi Black colleges

NASA will sponsor a special tour next month to four of Mississippi's black colleges and universities. Personnel from the national Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County will familiarize students, faculty members and the public with NASA's current activities and future programs, among other subjects.

The four institutions on the educational tour are Alcorn State University, Feb. 3-4; Tougaloo College, Feb. 6-7; Mississippi Valley State University, Feb. 11-12; and Jackson State University, Feb. 13-14.

According to Dr. Jerry Brown, NSTL's chief educational programs officer, "We will discuss possible career opportunities and ways students can orient their education and job experience to enable them to be prime candidates for the astronaut corps as well as a multitude of other exciting careers."

Brown will also talk about aeronautics, NSTL's Space Shuttle main engine test program and the roles of NASA and NSTL's resident federal agencies.

Clyde Dease, a technical manager at NSTL, will discuss ongoing activities of NASA's Earth Resources Laboratory and the progress being made in the area of satellite and aircraft remote sensing.

Accompanying Brown and Dease will be John Hartsfield, a life support systems specialist from NASA's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio. Hartsfield will discuss the Space Shuttle program and the Space Station concept of living and working in space for prolonged periods of time.

During the two-week tour, NASA will also present programs in public schools and for organizations in communities nearby the colleges. The lecturers will have on hand several models of the space Shuttle and various aircraft as well as moon rock displays.

Thriffiley to head junior college board

James Thriffiley of Bay St. Louis is the new chairman of the Pearl River College Board of Trustees. Thriffiley, educator, businessman and city official who represents Hancock County on the PRC board, replaced Poplarville attorney Jack Stewart as chairman.

Dr. Tom Blakeney of Columbia, who is serving as Marion County's superintendent of education and that county's representative on the board, was elected vice-chairman at a Jan. 14 meeting in Poplarville.

Pate Lumpkin, superintendent of education of Pearl River County, will continue serving as secretary of the organization.

Pearl River College President Marvin R. White reported that Mississippi public junior college appropriations were cut for the second time.

This time $451,500 was axed, of which Pearl River's share is approximately $20,000.

The PRC board voted unanimously to continue the operational budget according to the adjusted budget of December 1985 and, if necessary at the end of the fiscal year, any shortfall would be transferred from the general fund balance to this year's operational budget.

Dr. Willis Lott, director of admissions, reported on spring semester enrollment.

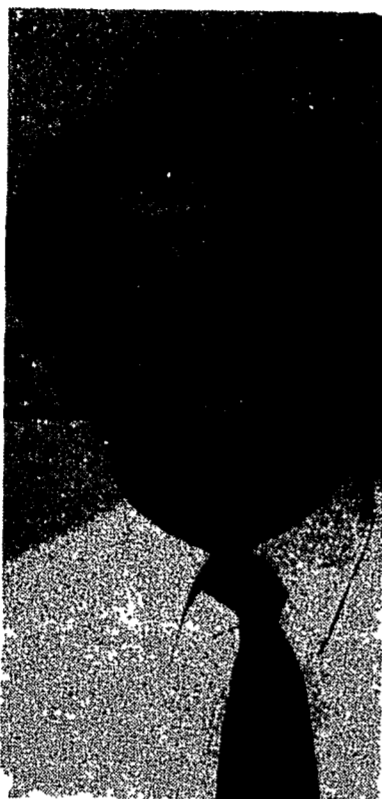

He said the '86 spring semester count was up 71 students from last year and that late registration had not started.

Mike Nelson, head football coach, told the board that spring practice is underway.

Recruitment of players for the next year looked good. Nelson will not sign players until Feb. 12.

Larry Stanford, director of public relations and recruiting, gave a report on overall recruiting plans for the next school year.

Emil Pav, a member of the Presidential Search Committee and superintendent of education of Lamar County, said the search committee will be ready to present the finalists to the entire Board on Tuesday, March 11.

According to Thriffiley, the PRC board will then recess until Wednesday morning at which time the entire board will begin interviewing the finalists.

After the interviews are concluded that afternoon the 16-member group, which represents Pearl River, Hancock, Lamar, Forrest, Marion and Jefferson Davis counties, will select the next president at Pearl River College.

The Pearl River Board also approved progress payments to Carter and Mullings Construction Company of Columbia for work completed on damages from Hurricane Elena in the amount of $73,330.

The board also approved the lowest and best bids on three items and the December Claim Docket of Expenditures of $332,605.

Summer food service applications due

Food service management companies which plan to act as vendors for USDA's 1986 summer food service program for children in Mississippi must register with state on or before March 15.

The summer food service program provides nutritious meals to children from areas of economic need at qualified public or private nonprofit, nonresidential institutions or residential camps during the summer months.

Regulations require that companies providing food service for the summer food program must be registered, reputable and able to meet the terms of their contracts.

In addition, under USDA's rules, food service management companies must provide states, at the time of registration, with detailed information on their operation for the past two years.

Companies wanting information on the summer food service program or applications for registration in Mississippi should contact John H. Walker, director, Division of Child Nutrition, State Department of Education, P.O. Box 771, Jackson, MS 39205, (601) 352-8450.

Ethics Commission files suit to resolve legal conflict

Since adoption of the Standards of Conduct Act in 1983, the Mississippi Ethics Commission has become increasingly concerned that limited portions of the Act may permit official conduct that is prohibited by Section 109 of the Mississippi Constitution which deals with conflicts of interest of public officials.

Under the Act the commission has repeatedly been required to issue advisory opinions to public officials that point out this conflict. Because of the commission's constitutional and statutory duties to investigate alleged violations of the law by public officials, to pursue equitable and legal remedies for any such violations, and to render advisory opinions, this apparent conflict between the Constitution and the Act must be resolved, according to Ron Crowe, commission executive director.

Accordingly, and after careful consideration, the Mississippi Ethics Commission has decided to seek judicial resolution of whether the actions of six public officials constitute conflicts of interest in violation of Section 109 and certain parts of the Act.

The suit will be filed in Hinds County Chancery Court in the name of the commission and each member of the commission individually and in their capacity as a member of the commission.

The commission is taking this action to obtain needed judicial direction to enable it to properly discharge its constitutional duties. Once the commission receives direction from the court in the form of a declaratory judgment in these six situations, the commission can then proceed under its existing authority to resolve all similar conflicts that it believes may be prohibited by the Constitution, Crowe added.

The names associated with the six specific situations are:

- 1) Donald N. Logan, City Alderman of Long Beach. Logan also is employed by the Long Beach Separate School District;
- 2) Representative James D. Nunnally of Tippah County. Nunnally and his spouse teach in a local school district and both receive state appropriated funds;
- 3) Billy F. Knox, County Supervisor of Panola County. Knox is also president and chief executive officer of a bank which receives funds for deposit from Panola County;
- 4) Manuel Killebrew, county supervisor of Quitman County. Killebrew also is a teacher in the Quitman County School System;
- 5) Senator Douglas R. Anderson of Hinds County. Anderson also teaches at Jackson State University, a state supported institution; and
- 6) Senator Perrin H. Purvis of Lee County. Purvis sells insurance to the Tombigbee River Valley Water Management District, a state body.

Again, the commission believes that each of the six stated situations is prohibited by the Constitution. However, the commission is equally convinced that each of those situations are allowed by state statutes. Therefore, the need for a judicial determination becomes obvious, Crowe continued.

The Ethics Commission has retained attorney Wayne Drinkwater to file the suit on its behalf and the individual commission members who are parties to the suit.

Drinkwater was admitted to practice law in Mississippi in 1974, and he is a partner in the law firm of Lake, Tindall, Hunger & Thackston in Greenville.

Diamondhead Garden Club

Chris Snyder, wildlife biologist with the Bureau of Marine Resources, was the principal speaker at the Diamondhead Garden Club meeting Jan. 16. His subject was Wetlands Permitting.

Mr. Snyder, representing the operational side of the bureau, first briefly discussed the economic importance of the wetlands to the Gulf Coast and the role of the bureau in their protection, then showed a narrated video presentation stressing requirements and methodology.

Any change to the natural environment in the wetlands - ramps, docks, bulkheads, etc. - requires issuance of a permit. The Bureau of Marine Resources works with waterfront owners to design structures that have the least effect on the natural flow of tidal waters.

At the business session, the club voted to sponsor a story-writing contest for fourth and fifth graders at Diamondhead Academy, Coast Episcopal and Hancock North Central schools to be entitled "A Woodland Happening."

The contest is part of a Garden Clubs of Mississippi program to promote environmental awareness in the elementary schools. The local winners will receive a $50 savings bond, with the opportunity of competing for statewide honors. Mrs. R. B. Boatright is project coordinator.

In other actions, Mrs. George Cassis, Arbor Day chairman, announced that the club will participate in Arbor Day at Beauvoir, being planned as a coastwide event, and make a donation to the Beauvoir Arboretum.

Youth chairman, Mrs. Clement Acker, and the juniors will plant a tree at Diamondhead Academy.

Mrs. Frank Kresse, Civic Development chairman, reported that preliminary landscape plantings at the academy would be completed by the end of the month.

A report on the Pilgrimage, to take place March 28 was given by Mrs. T. V. Fredian, co-chairman. Six houses and two gardens will be shown.

Mrs. William Neff, Mardi Gras chairman, announced that plans for the float were well in hand, and requested additional workers.

Mrs. Cassis then discussed the historical tree identification program being spearheaded by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, and the board's decision to participate in this effort. The appropriate forms were provided, and a "Tree Marking Field Day" will take place in the spring.

Mrs. Ray Whalen gave a short talk on the American goldfinch, much in evidence at area bird feeders these days, telling something of their habits and dietary preferences. Refreshments were provided by Mrs. Strabo Claggett and Mrs. T. V. Fredian.

After the meeting, the club members honored the president, Ms. Jean Keen, with a surprise luncheon at the Diamondhead Country Club, at which time she was also given a beautiful antique bar brooch with crown. Ms. Keen is the current Mardi Gras "Queen of the Sea," representing the Diamondhead Boating Association.

Women's Retreat slated February 21-23

The second annual Gulf Shores Women's Retreat, planned for Feb. 21-23 at Gulf Shores, Ala., will feature author Edith Schaeffer as conference speaker.

The non-denominational retreat, which is open to all women in south Alabama and nearby states, will have as its theme the title of one of Mrs. Schaeffer's books, "Common Sense Christian Living." The conference location is the Gulf Shores State Park Lodge and Convention Center.

Mrs. Schaeffer is scheduled to speak Friday evening, Saturday morning and afternoon, and Sunday morning just before adjournment.

She and her husband, the late Dr. Francis Schaeffer, co-founded L'Abri Fellowship, a Christian community in Switzerland in 1955. There are now seven branches of L'Abri:

two in Switzerland, one in England, one in Holland, one in Sweden and two in the U.S.

Mrs. Schaeffer, who was born in China to missionary parents in 1914, has four children, 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Now a resident of Rochester, Minn., she is a speaker, counselor and author and is involved with the Rochester L'Abri branch.

Her books have sold more than one million copies and have been translated into 12 languages. They include "L'Abri," "What Is a Family?" "Common Sense Christian Living," "The Hidden Art of Homemaking," "Lifelines" and "Tapestry."

Music and share groups will be part of the weekend. Also, those attending will choose from these interest groups: Life's Change Points, Forgiveness, Victorious Living, Teenager, Biblical Wife, Enjoying God, Home and Time Management, Reducing Stress, TV and Your Child, and Time Alone with God.

This will be the second year four Monroe women have planned a retreat similar to those offered in north Alabama. Gulf Coast Women's Retreat is a non-profit organization.

A $30 registration fee for the retreat includes four meals, and rooms that sleep two to four persons are available for $45. The deadline for registration and room reservations is Feb. 8, and only the first 550 persons can be accepted.

For a conference brochure and registration information, write Mrs. Ernestine V. Hardin, 303 Sunset Drive, Monroeville, Ala. 36460, or call her at (205) 743-3787 or call Mrs. Mary Heard at (205) 743-2472.

Mr. Davis is active in construction and builds piers and bulkheads all along the Gulf Coast.

Non-Catholics invited to 'learning experience'

Application deadline for the Arise program, a two-day weekend experience designed to give non-Catholics an opportunity to learn more about the Catholic faith, is Feb. 14.

The Arise program is designed to be helpful to any non-Catholic who is interested in learning more about the Catholic faith, but who is active in their own church; to non-Catholic spouses of Catholics who would like a deeper insight into their partners' faith; to Catholics who have been away from the church; and to those who are in a process of searching.

According to Fr. Tony Arguelles of Dedeaux, spiritual director of the program, the Arise weekend will not pressure, or expect that everyone who attends will become a Catholic. Other denominations and religious points of view are respected. It is simply an evangelization program that shares Catholic faith with others.

Arise began in the Diocese of St. Petersburg, Fla. in 1979, has since grown in support across the country, and is conducted periodically by the Cursillo movement of south Mississippi.

Upcoming weekends will be Feb. 28 through March 2 for women, and March 7 through 9 for men. The deadline for applications will be

Feb. 14.

The weekend will consist of meditations and talks presented by lay men and women and clergy offering one way to journey to God through the Catholic Church.

The participants are encouraged to become members of God's family, to live in His grace, which is sharing in His life, Arguelles said.

"Sharing in God's own life, that is the life in grace, is presented during the weekend as the highest ideal, but an ideal that is attainable. Through study, prayer and service, a plan is presented to live as children of God," he continued.

Since Arise is presented to non-Catholics, the Sacraments of Reconciliation and the Eucharist are emphasized and thoroughly explained. The holy sacrifice of the Mass is also explained in detail, he noted.

"Arise is a weekend pilgrimage which can become the first step in a lifetime pilgrimage. It is an invitation, an opportunity to 'come and see'."

For further information, contact the Arise office at 255-7560, or write to Arise, Rt. 2, Box 718, Pass Christian, MS 39571.

The weekend programs are conducted at Old Dedeaux School on Vidalia Road north of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Dedeaux.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE LORD'S SUPPER

The commemoration of the Lord's supper is a very important part of worship to God. It is the highest point in the worship service. After waiting in Troas seven days, Paul and his company met with the church.

Luke records, "And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow and continued his speech until midnight." (Acts 20:7)

Their activities on the first day of the week centered around the observance of the Lord's supper. Why does the Lord's supper take such an important place in Christian worship? As Jesus and the apostles were eating the last passover feast before his death, "Jesus took bread and blessed it and brake it and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup and gave thanks and gave it to them saying, drink ye all of it; for this is my blood of the New Testament which is shed for many for the remission of sins." (Matthew 26:26-28)

When Jesus took the fruit of the vine (Verse 29) and the unleavened bread and said that it was his blood and body, he was using metonymy of speech. In this instance metonymy means one thing used to represent another thing. The fruit of the vine represents the blood of Christ and the bread represents his body.

The Lord's supper is a fitting memorial of the life, death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. Paul taught the church at Corinth the purpose of the Lord's supper observance.

He said, "For I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: and when he had given thanks, he brake it and said, take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped saying, this cup is the New Testament in my blood; this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come." (1 Corinthians 11:23-26)

This memorial is one which all can afford. Marble and granite are very costly materials. The fruit of the vine and unleavened bread can be purchased or grown by the very poor. However, it takes continual effort. It keeps the sacrifice of Jesus fresh in our hearts.

JSU conference will explore alcohol-drug prevention strategies

A Religious Leaders Conference on Alcohol-Drug Education will be presented Thursday and Friday at the Holiday Inn Downtown, Jackson.

Studies Center, Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse of the State Department of Mental Health, and Brookwood Recovery Center.

The $35 registration fee covers handout materials, instructions, refreshments, a reception and luncheon.

Dr. Wm. L.

CRICK IN NECK

A spasmodic condition of the muscles in the neck and over the shoulder area occurs when the neck bones have become subluxated, irritating spinal nerves which control muscle function. Aside from being painful, it is often attended with serious complications if not cared for promptly. We find that people who acquire them will usually experience additional neck problems, each more severe than the previous! Falls, drafts, accidents, posture all contribute to this painful condition when the patient has an underlying structural problem. Surgery, traction, clipping of the nerves are last resort measures. The doctor of Chiropractic should be considered first for this condition as the spine and structural muscular balance are his special domain. Prompt attention will usually render the condition painless and avoid permanent damage.
